ENTERPRISE SPEAKS OF NEWS-TIMES GROWTH

Under the caption: "The News-Times Enlarged and Improved," the Mishawaka Enterprise in its issue of Friday says: "The South Bend News-Times celebrated Thanksgiving by appearing in an enlarged form with a new 'dress' and other evidences of progress. An extra column has been added to each page, making it the only eight-column daily paper published in the state outside of Indianapolis. The steady growth of The News-Times advertising patronage since the new management took charge of the paper 12 months ago, is one of the main inducements which brought about the enlargement, and the determination to furnish the community an up-to-date metropolitan daily, is the other."

"The Mishawaka department of The News-Times, under the management of W. E. Wallach, has had much to do with the apparent prosperity of the paper. The advertising patronage of the Mishawaka department the past year shows a remarkable increase."

EDWARD W. KLINE DIES
AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Edward W. Kline of 203 W. Ninth st., a prominent and well known resident of this city, died Friday morning about 10 o'clock, after an illness of about 10 months of complications. Mr. Kline's death was not unexpected as he had been seriously ill for some time.

He was born in this city Nov. 27, 1852, and was past 62 years old. He had been a life-long resident of Mishawaka, and was for several years employed in the pattern room of the Dodge Manufacturing Co. He was married May 14, 1903, to Miss Agnes Daniels, who survives him.

up the way for the landing of troops.

It is known that great numbers of heavy Japanese guns and huge supplies of Japanese ammunition have been sent to Odessa to further the Russian operations.

German and Austrian military writers claim now the greater part of the Serbian army has been captured. They point to the capture of 17,400 Serbs at Mitrovica and Pristina as one of the big events of the Serbian campaign.

Recent unofficial reports that Monastir had been captured by the Bulgarians are explained by the following dispatch from Salonika:

"Monastir is still held by the Serbs, although a Bulgarian cavalry patrol reached the city last week. Thinking this was the advance guard of a big army the greater part of the civilian population fled. The refugees carried the word that the city had been captured by the Bulgarians."

Faced By New Menace.

The Anglo-French army concentrated in the Vardar valley from Krivolak to the Greek frontier is faced by a new menace from the north and northwest which reinforcements are being hurried up from Salonika to meet.

This threat comes from the Austro-German army under Gen. von Gallwitz, which is marching down the valley toward the Vardar-Tcherina line. The Germans open-

UNION THANKSGIVING
SERVICES ARE HELD

The union Thanksgiving services which were conducted at the First Christian church Thursday evening were very largely attended. Mid-week prayer services were postponed this week in many of the churches owing to the union prayer meeting.

Rev. D. D. Spangler, pastor of the First Evangelical church, was the speaker of the evening. His subject was "Why Be Thankful?" The subjects of thankfulness, appreciation, gratitude, right use of gifts and a generous sharing of our goods with others.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Ritter, 324 W. Joseph st., entertained at a family dinner. Covers were laid for 21. Among the guests was Mrs. I. A. Page of Elkhart.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jordan, 212 E. Joseph st., entertained at a 12 o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for 25 guests.

ed the Kosovo plain with the aid of the Austrian army from the north and the Bulgarian army from the east. Gen. von Callwitz had detached part of his forces to assist the Bulgarians in the south, who have been held fast by the allies. This force joining with the Bulgarians in the valley due north of Prilip will provide not only additional strength for an attack at Krivolak but a column for the occupation of Monastir which the Bulgarians refrained from entering. No further reports have been received as to the progress of the battle on Kosovo plain.

Prince of Wales Escapes in Auto Wreck

The prince of Wales recently had a very narrow escape at the front. He was riding in his auto along a road in the rear of the fighting line. One of the commanders in charge of a particular section asked the prince to step out of his car and climb up a hill with him to view an artillery engagement which was just taking place. The prince did so, and left his chauffeur with the car. A few minutes later a shell exploded directly in front of the car and killed the chauffeur. The picture shows the wrecked automobile.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Final proofs of the complete ownership of American Trans-Atlantic Steamship Co. stock by citizens of the United States will be forwarded to Washington Friday. Prompt demand on Great Britain for release of the Hocking and the Genesee, seized by British cruisers, is expected to follow forthwith.

"I am not concerned," said Prest Wagner of the steamship company Thursday, "whether the state department makes its test on the Hocking or the Genesee. It is all the same. If there is German interest in one, there is German interest in all of them and vice versa. Either we have or we have not a right to sail these ships. The important thing is to have our rights established as soon as possible."

No further news of the missing ship Kankakee has been received.

NEED 2,000 AEROPLANES

John Hays Hammond Makes Suggestion to War Department.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The United States needs 2,000 aeroplanes ready to take the air at a moment's notice. For their operation 2,000 pilots and as many trained observers are required. This country should have at least 25,000 trained military officers
